costa rica la planada

pomegranate | chocolate | nougat | super clean

this coffee comes to us via the costa rica cup of excellence competition, where farmer araldo barrantes zúñiga placed 5th amongst his peers for coffee produced at la planada.

la planada is located in the lourdes de naranjo microregion of valle occidental. araldo's family has been farming for over 50 years, and started milling their coffee in 2001 as a way to add value to their product and combat low prices. the barrantes family uses traditional practices for cultivation and processing, and grows four different varieties on la planada: villa sarchi, geisha, sl28, and typica lyma. this particular lot was the third harvest of typica lyma.

this coffee is a honey process, grown at 1500 meters, and sun-dried. as stated, it is 100% typica lyma variety.
