Todos Santos' Story

One of our longest relationships. Todos Santos is a community tucked within the famous Huehuetenango department of Guatemala. This group used to operate as an official cooperative called ASODIETT, and still effectively functions as one. The group is led by Macario Calmo Perez, who is renowned in the community and by our exporting partners as an incredible person. The higher prices of their coffees have enabled the group to establish community programs like a health clinic in Tuiboch, which serves thousands from nearby communities.
